

Brecht & Noughts And Crosses

Year 8 Drama @ Hadleigh High School

There is a demonstration against the Noughts at Heathcroft. In defending Callum, Sephy insults him.

Sephy tries to sit with Callum at lunch but he moves away from her.

3 months later, Callum's dad and brother are attending political meetings and Callum is the last Nought at Heathcroft.

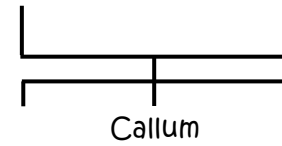

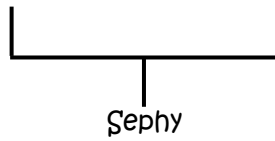

2 months later there is a political plan to blow up a shopping centre - Callum saves Sephy just in time.

Callum's family is left broken after his dad and brother admit involvement with the bombing.

Callum's dad is arrested. Callum is witness at his trial; he is sentenced to death. At the last minute he receives a reprieve.

Sad that he hasn't heard from Sephy, Callum is persuaded to join the political fight.

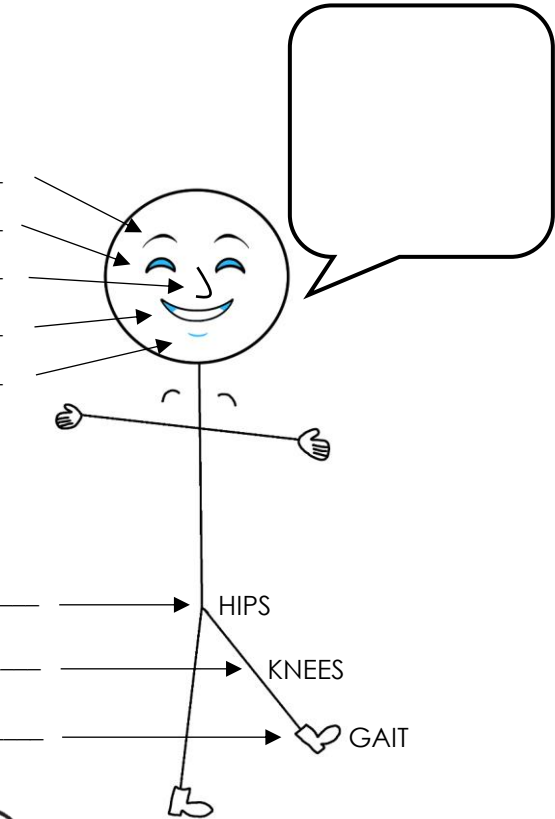

2 years later, Callum and Sephy exchange letters
